

Become a Volunteer for Junior Achievement's JA Economics for Success Program!

As one of RAPB's Community Business Partner, we encourage members to assist with Junior Achievement's goal to inspire young people, share experiences as a positive adult role model, and help students see a bright future for themselves!

What is JA's Economics for Success Program?

JA Economics for Success™ explores personal finance and students' education and career options based on their skills, interests, and values. It also demonstrates the economic benefits of staying in school.

How does this program benefit students?

- Volunteers serve as role models for students, sharing their personal experiences of what it takes to be successful.
- Developed by education experts with detail instructions, JA programs are age-appropriate, sequential and integrated.
- JA activities are quick and fun. Students learn new concepts while enjoying the presentation of a guest speaker.
- Students learn about the steps involved in getting a job, how to be financially responsible, and more.

How does volunteering benefit YOU?

- GIVE back to your community
- HELP prepare future workers in your industry
- IMPROVE personal presentation skills
- NETWORK within the area
- ENHANCE your career
- KNOW that you are investing in the future

YES! I WOULD LIKE TO VOLUNTEER!
